

Central Corridor Light Rail Transit

Construction Update

Nov. 13, 2009

Four Pages

Nicole Miller (left), Barry Lindo and Teresa Holladay of St. Paul Radiology can still access their offices on Fourth Street west of Sibley Street despite utility relocation work. Employees access the building's main entrance by using the sidewalk from the west. St. Paul Radiology's offices on Fourth house billing operations and various administrative functions.

Enhanced signs indicate sidewalk closures and alternate routes for pedestrians.

Major Impacts

Robert Street will reopen the evening of Nov. 14 from Kellogg Boulevard to Fourth Street in St. Paul. Fourth Street between Minnesota and Jackson streets remains closed to traffic due to utility relocation for Central Corridor LRT construction. Fourth is closed at Sibley Street, and Sibley is reduced to one lane at Fourth. Robert from Fourth to Sixth streets remains reduced to one lane each way.
